

PART OF TERRIER 7 JUNE 1613 (not apparently in George Grimshaw's hand)

The rate for the reparacon of our Church is one bushellof oats, one peache of barlie, one peache of wheat, for every farthing of land yeerely, lying within the Parish

There was left by the prediccors of the present Incumbent in the parsonage, one old table board, and one Stoney Trought to receive the water from the spoute.

The bonds of our parish southwards lieth against the commons of Bigburie and is devided by a brookethat runneth from a place called Cockhole, from thence Northeast to Waddell yeats, and so bending upon Bigburie untill the utmost corner of Seavon-Stones downe, and from thence northwards to a close of land called Gaberwill, wherein is a landscover, the east part of whiche close belonged to Ridmore, the westernmost bond is one Muchermores meddow, and the parishe upon that side devided from Kingston by a brooke that runneth to Wiscombe, the whole scope of our parishe is by estimate one thousand ackers of land.

Phillip Palmer	)	Assistance	William Rowe	)	Wardens
William Ashford (Gent)	)		John Coytlye	)
William Head	)			)

RINGMORE c1601 TERRIER (not perhaps in George Grimshaw's hand)

The Patrone of Rinmer is Mr. William Kirkham
The valuation in his moieties first £ XIX lxs.

All those instruments left by Mr. Cootte my prediccors were one plaine bedsteed of bord, twoe table bords very meane and the water trough of Kene stone, and whatt I propose to leave besides theise to my successor I am yet uncertain.

The quantity of grounde belonging to Rimor Rectorye is xxii ackers, besides three tenemenmtys, the rent of the one in the occupation of Thomas Wolsone, of Rinmor is xviiiis ; the rent of the second, stated out for my life with some exceptiones to John Williames is xviss ; the rent of the third in the occupation of Anne Wakham, widdowe, xiiiss iiiid and foure fleces of woole.

Certain day rents going out of my parsonygd to Mr. Ayshford, of Ayshford xvjd to be paid every Michaelmas, and a penney for the Sturbridge, likewise to be paid at Michaelmas.

Francis Corkington, parson

PART OF TERRIER 7 JUNE 1613 (not apparently in George Grimshaw's hand)

The rate for the reparacon of our Church is one bushell of oats, one peache of barlie, one peache of wheat, for every farthing of land yeerely, lying within the Parish

There was left by the predicessors of the present Incumbent in the parsonage, one old table board, and one Stoney Trought to receive the water from the spoute.

The bonds of our parish southwards lieth against the commons of Bigburie and is divided by a brookethat runneth from a place called Cockhole, from thence Northeast to Waddell yeats, and so bending upon Bigburie untill the utmost corner of Seavon-Stones downe, and from thence northwards to a close of land called Gaberwill, wherein is a landscover, the east part of whiche close belonged to Ridmore, the westernmost bond is one Muchermores meddow, and the parishe upon that side divided from Kingston by a brooke that runneth to Wiscombe, the whole scope of our parishe is by estimate one thousand ackers of land.

Phillip Palmer	)	Assistance	William Rowe	)	Wardens
William Ashford (Gent)	)	(Assistants?)		)	John Coytlye
William Head	)			)

RINGMORE c1601 TERRIER (not perhaps in George Grimshaw's hand)

The Patrone of Rinmer is Mr. William Kirkham
The valuation in his moieties first £ XIX lxs.

All those instruments left by Mr. Cote my predicessor were one plaine bedsteed of bord, twoe table bords very meane and the water trough of Kene stone, and whatt I propose to leave besides theise to my successor I am yet uncertain.

The quantity of grounde belonging to Rimor Rectorye is xxii ackers, besides three tenementys, the rent of the one in the occupation of Thomas Wolsone, of Rinmor' is xviiiis ; the rent of the second, stated out for my life with some exceptiones to John Williames is xv is ; the rent of the third in the occupation of Anne Wakham, widdowe, xiiis iiiid and foure fleces of woole.

Certain day rents going out of my parsonyng vd to Mr. Ayshford, of Ayshford xvid to be paid every Michaelmas, and a penney for the Sturbridge, likewise to be paid at Michaelmas.

Francis Corkington, parson