

The photo above may be regarded as recent archive. It shows the present 1996 state of the original Burgh Island Sea tractor built in 1949 in Kingstbridge in the buildings now occupied by Palladium, then by Oke or Oakes Agricultural Engrs. It was driven to Bigbury on Sea on truck wheels, then converted, on the beach, to track transmission.

The Historical Records Agency is unknown to me. Maybe it has something to offer to Historical Societies.
