PARISH NEWSLETTER

Summer is on the way? It seems as though an act of faith is required. Anyone who can remember a particularly foul evening in March might recall Emma Cowan's talk on Hughenden Manor. Emma has written about the history of the house before it was purchased by Disraeli.

Activity surrounding the Millennium appeared to have died a death when suddenly news came that a Millennium Committee was established at the May Council meeting! Guy Eddy has written a note about this. This was not meant to be a clandestine move, more a fact-gathering exercise and later the committee will present ideas to a public meeting. Get your Thinking Caps on!

Neighbourhood Watch in the guise of David Young is responsible for the forms attached to the Newsletter. The Devon & Cornwall Constabulary would be grateful if you would complete, detach and post the form, which is pre-paid.

Contrary to last month's information which was correct at the time, there will be a visit from the Mobile Library this month, on 24th.

A cricket match between the Ringmore Rams (a scratch side of residents, former residents and resident drinkers!) and the Filton Flyers comprising touring teachers from Bristol took place at the delightful ground on the Flete Estate. Not much to tell save that we were well beaten but we more than held our own at the post-match analysis at the JE.

PARISH CHURCH OF ALL HALLOWS, RINGMORE

JULY, 1998

We have a Bit of Good News! As from this month, there will be the start of what we hope may grow into a Sunday School or whatever it might come to be called (I've called it "Children's Church" in the diary below). On the first Sunday in the month, at the 9 a.m. service in Kingston, children will have the opportunity of going into the Vestry with an experienced teacher (Mrs. Belinda Ireland) to learn about and celebrate what it means to be a Christian. They will then join the main congregation for a blessing at the Lord's Table, and perhaps let "the grownups" experience something of what they have done together.

It should be stressed that this is an experiment that will need the co-operation of parents in all our three parishes. We are starting in Kingston, because we have there a vestry that is both large enough and able to be shut off from the rest of the church. But who knows? If we pray enough, we might find it possible to extend this to each of the churches, so that there could be children's worship every Sunday morning!

So: bring along your children, support this with your prayers, and praise God that someone is prepared to give of her time to his service in this way. Pray, too, that others may come forward to help. If you need any further information, please telephone Belinda on 810456 or get in touch with me.

Journey's End Journal

This country is inevitably becoming a part of mainland Europe and to prepare our beer drinkers there will be a Belgian Beer Week at the Journey's End from 17th - 25th July. To accompany the beers, which include Trappist Beers, Abbey Ales and Fruit Beers, there will be a fine choice of classic Belgian dishes.

In an attempt to bring the Mediterranean to Ringmore, Friday 10th July is Paella Night. Dining Room reservations are essential.

Paul Kane, our favourite Vet, will be holding his third exhibition of paintings here from 11th - 19th July. His works usually sell out quickly, so try to come along early in the week and help to contribute to Paul's charity - Vetaid, by purchasing a picture or two.

The History of Hughenden

Those of you who braved the awful weather back in March to come and listen to my talk about my work at Hughenden Manor in Buckinghamshire will know a bit about the place. For those of you who, very sensibly I may add, stayed firmly indoors on that night, here is a little mote about its history prior to Benjamin Disraeli's time there.

Hughenden takes its name from its beautiful setting which in old English means the dene or long valley of a man called Huhha. It appears as 'Hutchedene' in the Domesday Book. At the Norman Conquest, it had been granted to the King's powerful half brother, Bishop Odo of Bayeux, the man who probably commissioned the Bayeux Tapestry.

Hughenden remained crown land until the early 12th century when Henry I gave it to his chamberlain, Geoffrey de Clinton, who may have built the original church. It was granted by Clinton to the priory he had founded at Kenilworth and after the Dissolution of the Monasteries in 1538, it passed to Sir Robert Dormer who came from one of the leading Catholic families in Buckinghamshire with estates at West Wycombe and Wing.

Early in the 17th century the Dormers built a set of almshouses beside the church and part of the original timber framing remains in the now mainly 19th and 20th century alterations. Hughenden remained part of the Dormer's Wing estate until 1737 when it was acquired by Charles Savage who converted the old farmhouse on the site into a smart gentleman's residence.

Drawings in the Manor show it in the Georgian style and either stuccoed or whitewashed. The basic structure of that house remains and the blue and red bricks are easily distinguished from the bright red Victorian additions.

In 1771 Hughenden passed to the Norris family and it was in the 1840's that John Norris started to 'Gothicise' the house. In 1845 John Norris died without a male heir and the house and 750 acre estate came onto the market the following year. After protracted negotiations, which would make another article in its own right, Disraeli finally wrote, in September 1848, to his wife Mary Anne, 'It is all done and you are the Lady of Hughenden'.

Benjamin Disraeli and his wife lived happily at Hughenden for 33 years. They transformed the house into the Gothic pile you see today and May Anne also redesigned the gardens into the much loved Victorian style of formal lawns and brightly coloured flower beds. This was Disraeli's 'spiritual retreat'. Here he could escape the rigours of parliamentary life in London in the recess and spend his time walking through the woods, talking to his woodsmen, enjoying their racy conversation.

Hughenden still has the feel of a warm, comfortable, country house despite no longer having any Disraelis alive and this is often commented on by visitors who most commonly say that they feel they could live in it. Those of us who live and work there could not wish for a better compliment.

For anyone interested in visiting, Hughenden Manor Estate is open from April to October, Wednesday - Sunday and Bank Holiday Mondays, 1.00pm - 5.00pm, last admission at 4.30pm.

TEN YEARS AGO . . .

There was an 'opening night' at the JE to launch the new ownership.

There was collective opposition to the planning application to build a bungalow (Sycamores) in the garden of Tosca.

A proposed development on Rocky Path was rejected by SHDC.

The WI visited the Garden House at Buckland Monachorum.

The Church Fête was held in July.

WOMEN IN THE COMMUNITY

The WI Annual Barbecue took the place of the June meeting and was, as usual, a tremendous success in spite of everyone's gloomy prognostications of pouring rain and hurricanes! There were neither and members and friends poured in to help wear our George's lawn. George and Nancy always make us welcome at Middle Manor and this is mainly the reason for the great popularity of this event; we are most grateful to them both.

Margaret and Bob Wood were wielding the tools (culinary) helped by Thelma Mann on the Bread Rolls and Stan Brunskill on Cider. Thanks to them and to all who helped in organising the evening so well.

Finally, it is pleasing to report that the funds raised at the Barbecue, when added to those received for last month's sponsored walk, total £310. This has been forwarded to the Children's Hospice South West.

A future date to note - the WI Fête on 5th August.

Naomi Warne

Thanks again to those who have submitted recipes so far. However, I still need MANY more before the closing date of 1st August 1998.

Please help this good cause.
Gillian

RINGMORE PARISH COUNCIL

Meeting: Tuesday 23rd June 1998 Present: All councillors, Mr Anstey and two members of the public.

Skip Service

The council may be able to organise the use of one or two skips, for use by the Parish, at the end of the season.

Village Signs

Devon Highways will be contacted again about replacing signs which have disappeared around Ringmore.

Journey's End Car Park

Recently two cars were broken into and another was stolen. Once again you are asked to be aware of anyone acting suspiciously near any vehicles or generally in the the neighbourhood and to call the police.

Planning Permission

The application for a single-storey extension at Pleasant Cottage has been granted.

District Council

Mr Anstey informed the council that in future there will be more consultation and participation between elected members of the District Council and the public.

On a lighter note, he told the council that New Year's Eve 1999 will be a Bank Holiday.

Ragwort

The season for the tall, yellow flowering Ragwort is here. You are requested to pull up and dispose (if possible, burn) any which you see in your garden as it contains a poisonous alkaloid, which can be extremely dangerous, even fatal, to animals if accidentally eaten.

Next meeting

Tuesday 21st July at 7.00pm in WI Hall

Thelma Mann

549 DAYS TO GO

With the approval of the Parish Council a Millennium Committee has been formed. Its members are Guy Eddy, Michael Patterson, Thelma Mann and Jane Riddell. Its task is to gather and evaluate ideas for celebrating the Millennium. If you have any suggestions please get in touch with any of the members. It has to be pointed out that there is unlikely to be much money available, so ideas will have to be inventive and inexpensive.

Guy Eddy

TROJAN RALLY

Not quite Africa but shades of yesteryear
The 1998 Rally was held at Barnford with a reduced attendance caused by other commitments and advancing years. However, the weather was kind, rides were given and the occasion was enjoyed by spectator and participant alike.

DISAPPEARED!

Would the person who removed the long metal bar which was leaning against the garage door of Ringmore Vein, please be kind enough to return it as it is needed for the purpose for which it was acquired. Alternatively, if you know who 'borrowed' it, please persuade them to put it back.

Geof Dykes

JUNE Solution

TWO THOUSAND EIGHT HUNDRED AND NINETY EIGHT
The remaining letters are
MMDDCCXCXVIII

Not many entrants this month. One of the phew!, sorry few, was from the lovely Sue Brickay and the others from The Furry Boys and Yog-sothoth. All were correct. Well done!

Some doubts were raised about the objective of the puzzle and such enquiries always make me wonder whether the question is reasonable but correct solutions speak for themselves. Nevertheless, I am always willing to attempt to clarify.

JULY

Place the numbers 1 - 16 in the grid according to the instructions below.

- 1 is two places above 14 and one place to the left of 9
  - 3 is three places below 5
  - 1 is two places right of 6
  - 9 is two places above 3
  - 11 is three places to the left of 5
  - 4 is one place to the right of 11
  - 2 - 13 )
  - 12 - 7 )
  - 10 is one place below 4
  - 8 & 15 are adjacent
  - 16 is next to 5
- Well, it stands to reason, doesn't it? I am not sure I can simplify this one bar printing the solution!

SCYPEN

Ann and John Bracey would like to thank all helpers and visitors to the Scypen garden open days when over £273 was raised for the eleven National Garden Scheme charities.

NEIGHBOURHOOD

Since the last bulletin, the Journey's End car park has been plagued by thieves on two separate occasions. The first incident occurred at about 9.00pm on 26th May when a car was stolen and the second occurred between 4.30pm and 5.45pm on 13th June when two cars were broken into and radios and contents were stolen.

On Monday 6th July at 7.30pm there is to be a South Hams Police Liaison meeting at the Clifton Room, Guildhall, Victoria Road, Dartmouth. Would anybody wishing to attend, please contact David Young 810389.

Devon and Cornwall Police Authority

The Devon and Cornwall Police Authority would appreciate you completing and returning the pre-paid questionnaire below to assist the Force in planning for the future provision of police services.

Whilst the majority of the terms used should be self-explanatory, for clarification:-

- 'quality of life patrols' are dedicated teams of Officers whose prime purpose is to respond to community problems as identified by the public.
- 'targeting of offenders' relates to committing Police resources to monitor the activities and movements of known criminals to collate evidence of offences.

Please find time to complete this questionnaire and take the opportunity to express your views on what you expect from your local Police Force. Remember postage has been paid.

Further copies of the questionnaire are available by telephoning 01392 438781

Please detach

Effective policing requires making the best use of the limited resources available. Please indicate with a tick which one of the following is of the most importance to you acknowledging that committing resources to one style of policing will be at the expense of resources elsewhere.

- |                         |                          |                        |                          |
