RINGMORE

PARISH NEWSLETTER

August was the month of Soirées, Parties, Drinkies and Fêtes. As the weather went a little way towards redeeming the Summer, anyone whose event was impaired by rain was most unfortunate.

The WI Fête suffered a reduction in attendance with no clear reason why this should have been so. However the effort was not unrewarded and the Institute raised just under £1,000 towards their running costs and charities. The Church Fête was a larger event and produced a splendid profit of £1500. Those who took part in the egg-catching competition were great sports and deserve a pat on the back for providing such entertainment. Both events are supported by the same hard working folk and each year everyone says, "That's it. I'm not doing it next year!" but they do. One year they might not!

September heralds Autumn, a transition emphasised by the return of activities associated with darker evenings. Table Tennis is starting up again and the Thursday Quiz at the Journey's End returns on 19th; volunteer Quiz Masters and Mistresses are requested.

Ian Hill's letter from New Zealand (last month) has generated some interesting tales from around the village. There are no reports of definitive sightings but plenty of hearsay which only adds to the mystery. There must be more to tell so don't be shy, tell us what you have seen on the way back from the Journey's End!

Holywell Stores will open its new Post Office section at 9.00am on Thursday 12th. Everyone is invited to mark the occasion. Dane and Hilary are to be commended for their enterprise.

Have a go at the Town Quiz. Difficult? Never! Q. What dogs should be kept on? A. Leeds What could be easier? A cat knew that and won last year so come on all you budgies and hamsters! Proceeds will go to Newsletter funds. The closing date is 24th September.

Sponsorship forms for Bikers, Riders and Striders are available; on 341 and 547 for Bikers and Riders and in the Church for Striders.

The Ringmore Computer Users Group will meet for its first Autumn meeting on Monday 16th.

Belated Welcome

Peter and Debbie Chicken moved into 'Mollie's Place' some weeks ago but the warmth of the welcome they have received had made up for the tardiness of this note. They have come to the village from Hertfordshire, stopping at various places on the way. We wish them a happy stay in Ringmore.

Mollie's Place is no longer called Summerfield but is now known as Mayfield and we will get used to it just as we assimilated changes to The Homestead, to Cypress Cottage and to The Ark.

News From All Hallows Church

As one who regularly makes mistakes in text or spoken words I smile with others when they make them. Here are some actual Church Notices or "bloopers". None of them local, yet! They all appeared in church bulletins or were announced in a church service:

Advert for a PRAYER & FASTING Conference: "The cost for the Fasting and Prayer conference includes meals."

Miss Charlene Mason sang "I will not pass this way again" giving obvious pleasure to the congregation.

"Ladies, don't forget the rummage sale. It's a chance to get rid of those things not worth keeping around the house. Don't forget your husbands."

Irving Benson and Jessie Carter were married on October 24 in the church. So ends a friendship that began in their school days.

The senior choir invites any member of the congregation who enjoys sinning to join the choir.

Low Self Esteem Support Group will meet Thursday at 7 PM. Please use the back door. The ladies of the Church have cast off clothing of every kind. They may be seen in the basement on Friday afternoon.

The Minister unveiled the church's new tithing campaign slogan last Sunday: "I Upped My Pledge - Up Yours."

Weight Watchers will meet at 7 PM in the Church. Please use large double door at the side entrance.

Our own Church life goes on the holidaymakers are reducing from road jamming August numbers, but they are also so welcome as an essential contribution to the life of our community. As things quieten down, we return to "Normal Service(s)" to borrow the B.B.C. phrase. A number of local weddings and christenings have been booked for the months ahead, so do come and support your friends and neighbours as they celebrate the good things of life. Which naturally leads to the Harvest Supper on October 11th in the Parish Room, look out for notices, and neighbours bearing tickets.

Blessings from Church House: John

THE MILLENNIUM CONTINUED Church Clock

Despite what may have appeared in last month's newsletter it is still a millennium clock, and will stay as such when we can hopefully see it gracing the church tower.

The large slice of luck I hoped for last month didn't happen and progress continues at a snail's pace.

The planning application to South Hams has been approved. An application for a faculty to the Diocese of Exeter is being prepared. However it is unlikely to be discussed at one of their meetings before the beginning of November. Meantime suppliers and costings are being checked out again.

CHURCH FÊTE

A HAPPY, SUCCESSFUL TIME!
The Church Fête on Bank Holiday Monday took place in warm sunshine tempered with a stiff breeze. Numbers were slightly down on last year, but business was brisk, especially at the cake stall and refreshment area.

The tombola and raffles were also kept busy, and skittles, wellie throwing, coconut shy and other stalls gave much enjoyment to both young and old. There was the bouncy castle and a lucky dip for the children, and, in addition, the opportunity to pelt John Elliott and Michael Tagent with wet sponges as they sat in the stocks - a chance seized on with glee. Does this say something about their sermons? The children's races were much enjoyed, and the afternoon finished with a hilarious (raw) egg catching contest. After expenses, over £1,500 was raised for church funds, and the afternoon judged a great success.

Thanks are due to the many helpers, not least Pam and John Elliott for the use of Church House, Dudley Hext for the use of the field and those who put up the marquees and gathered together tables and chairs - then reversed the process in the hours following the end the Fête.

Michael Tagent

TEN YEARS AGO

September 1992 was significant insofar as the uncertainty at the JE came to an end and James and Gillian became mine hosts. The pub had been without an owner for the previous two years.

Reference was made to a number of new, un-named residents arriving in the village. We can only guess who they might have been.

The Parish Council decided to re-form the Parish Emergency Planning Team - it was intended to be ready for any problem ranging from natural disaster to nuclear war!

The WI reported a successful Fête and mentioned that their one other source of income was the rent from the Parish Council for its monthly meeting.

WOMEN IN THE COMMUNITY

No meeting this month - the Fête was the thing! In spite of the absence of the President owing to illness, loyal supporters crowded in as they always do and a good time was had by all! The new facilities were much appreciated and the hardwork put in by all concerned was well worth while.

The next meeting on 12th September when the speaker will be Jim Henry, on 'Shopping - a Man's Perspective'. Need we say more? It will be an open meeting, at 8.00pm, to which all will be welcome.

RINGMORE PARISH COUNCIL

Meeting: Tuesday 20th August 2002
Present: Six councillors; the Clerk;
Mr Guy Eddy, Millennium Committee,
Mr David Young, Neighbourhood Watch

Recycling Banks

Up to now, no progress has been made in locating a site in Ringmore for the bottle bank. However, two banks one for glass and one for paper, should be in situ in Challaborough within the next month. This is due to Park Dean, who have offered the use of their car park.

Challaborough Notice Board

The notice board has now been completed by Cllr Freeman and is mounted on a fence near the shop.

Millennium Clock

The District Council has approved the Planning Application. Mr Guy Eddy informed us that we now have to wait for the deliberations of the Church authorities before proceeding further.

Footpaths

Cllr Muller has bought the Council's new Hedge Trimmer for use in keeping the footpaths clear. The cost was £258, covered by the grant from the Parish Paths Partnership.

Planning

In addition to the Millennium Clock, SHDC has approved the extension at Little Barn.

TABLE TENNIS

With the evenings beginning to draw in and our summer visitors departing, now is the time to shed a few of those pounds and trim yourself up for the Autumn and Winter ahead.

YES, the Table Tennis season starts at 7.30pm on Tuesday 17th September in the Parish Room.

Adult players of any standard will be most welcome for what has become an enjoyable, but not too energetic evening.

You may have seen Table Tennis on the television recently and thought how much it has changed over the years. Don't worry! The new scoring system of 'up to 11 points' etc., has come about purely for television. We play 'up to 21 points' - the more traditional way. It gives us slow starters a better chance! We do play with the new slightly larger ball though - makes it easier(?) to hit - sometimes!

Look forward to seeing you on 17th September.

Royal British Legion Bigbury - Kingston - Ringmore

There was no meeting in August but the September meeting has been re-arranged for Wednesday 11th September at 7.30pm at the Royal Oak, Bigbury. The speaker will be Phill Errett. The October meeting will be on 2nd October at 7.30pm at the Journey's End Inn, Ringmore.

The annual auction in aid of the Poppy Appeal will be held on Friday 1 November 2002 at 8.30pm in the Journey's End Inn, Ringmore. If you have any items for sale or wish to donate a pledge, please contact Alan McCarthy on 810738.

Following the July meeting Viv Freeman gave us more self-styled ramblings of the village idiot. He gave a fascinating insight into life in Kingston since the second world war. Whilst farming methods were changing by becoming more mechanised the work was still hard. The carpenters and blacksmiths had to adapt to the new machinery. Payment for occasional farm labouring was either money or cider, but there was a regular payment of half a gallon of cider per day for all farm workers. The cider mill was opposite Home Farm in Kingston and there are some people who cannot touch cider to this day.

Did you know the Holy Well is in the field below the stores in St Ann's Chapel? Tradition had it all brides drank from this well on the night before their weddings. A practice no longer followed.

Like most things in life, Kingston has come full circle and although there are not the businesses or 13 farms surrounding the village, there are more young people and children living there permanently.

Many of these stories will be lost in the mists of time but we are grateful to Viv for sharing his memories with us. I am sure he has a wealth of others just waiting to be told and we look forward to the next instalment.

TALES of OLD RINGMORE

Last month a letter from Ian Hill of Christchurch, NZ was published. His story of a shadowy figure, near the old red telephone box, has excited one or two memories, one directly related to the tale in the letter and one or two about figures elsewhere.

First, a word in defence of Sue and Adrian Muller who are the present custodians of the old telephone box. The presence of a phone box makes it a natural point of reference especially for anyone wishing to make a call. Only villagers would know that the box is no longer operative. Thus, if it was resplendent in its livery, many people would be frustrated to find no telephone inside. Adrian believes that the ivy, which he trims to maintain the shape of the box, is the best protection at present.

Now, to continue the story . . .

Ann Lambell is the only person who has responded with information about Ian Hill's mystery man. A girl named Sylvia Johns used to help Ann with Jennifer and Jane when they were young. One night Sylvia was walking back from a dance at the Memorial Hall at St Ann's Chapel. As she passed the Telephone Box she was so startled by a figure of a man, dressed in a velvet jacket and a beret, standing in the shadows, that she bolted round the corner to her home in the Council Houses. Ann Lambell told the tale to Evie Bardens, a cousin of Flossie Bardens, who had helped Ann's mother when Ann and Barbara were children. Immediately Evie said 'Oh, that is old Mr So-and-so' who used to live in one of the cottages which now comprise Ivy Cottage, when Evie was a girl. That was in the latter part of the nineteenth century. At the moment Ann cannot recall the name of the gentleman so if any one can throw light on this developing tale, please let the Editor know.

George Grimshaw tells a story which he heard shortly after arriving in Ringmore some 20 years ago of someone walking past Smugglers Cottage and on glancing in the window, noticed a gentleman dressed in a fashion as described by Ian Hill. Ann Lambell mentioned that she had heard the same story told her by Margaret Lock. Margaret says that two of her summer visitors of more than 30 years ago, Valerie and Nicky, were peering through the window of the empty Smugglers Cottage when they saw the figure of a man sitting in a chair, dressed as a Quaker.

It is never easy to convince others of the certainty of these 'sightings'. Such stories are often dismissed with a scathing remark. 'His eyes glaze over if you say cheers'! Or, 'I would never have put her down as one who sees things which aren't there'.

Mary King, who once worked at Ringmore Vein for Mrs Lutwyche, has seen door handles move. More than once they expected Peter Lutwyche to come through the door but there was no-one on the other side. Convincing noises, suggesting that someone is upstairs, are heard still in the house. Similar tales can be told about other houses in the village. The truth is unknown but it makes a fascinating tale.

Guy Eddy knows nothing of midnight mysteries that he will tell but he has taken the trouble to write about the listing of the Telephone Box. Guy was Chairman of the Parish Council at the time.

Old Ringmore Telephone Box

I was very interested to read the letter from Mr Hill in New Zealand. What a circulation the newsletter must have! I don't know anything about the figure waiting for a call at the old telephone box but I do know about it being listed as a Grade II item in the village.

In 1989 the Parish Council was in foul odour with the owners of the Ringmore Shop and Post Office, because they had put plastic windows in their Grade II listed building without permission from South Hams. They were made to replace them with wooden windows at some considerable expense, for which they blamed the P.C. They declared that they no longer wanted the telephone box on their property and it would have to be moved, because users would no longer be allowed to cross some 10ft of their property to get to the box.

It was suggested that the box could be moved to perhaps adjacent to the bus shelter. Investigation by the P.C. with B.T. suggested that this type of box would probably break if moved, because it contained cast iron bracing. In consequence the new modern box was installed at the west end of the Council Houses.

Meantime to ensure that the old red box was not consigned to the skip, action was taken by the P.C. to get it listed Grade II in its own right. This was at a time when red telephone boxes were much in the news. It took some time and effort but was achieved, and is now listed Grade II amongst Ringmore's historic buildings in January 1990.

Looking back it all seems a little trivial and petty, but at the time it seemed important to the village, and surely that is what local government is all about.

Guy Eddy

BIKE - RIDE - STRIDE Calling all Riders and Walkers

Details have now been finalized for All Hallows' participation in the Devon Historic Churches Trust 'Bike, Ride or Stride' event on Saturday 14th September. Monies raised through sponsorships of the Ride and Stride will be split equally between the Devon Historic Churches Trust and All Hallows' Fabric Fund for the repair and upkeep of our church.

Last year the Devon Historic Churches Trust gave over £50,000 to churches and chapels of all denominations throughout Devon.

A morning group walk will leave All Hallows' at 11.00am for a gentle stroll to Kingston Church. For those that cannot make the morning walk or need further exercise an afternoon group walk will leave All Hallows' at 3.00pm for a walk to Bigbury Church.

Walkers of all ages are most welcome to join the group walks which could be enhanced by a refreshment/comfort stop at the Dolphin in the morning or the Royal Oak in the afternoon. Dogs, under control, are also most welcome and of course could be sponsored as well.

We hope that if you cannot participate in any of the Ride and Stride events you will feel encouraged to sign a sponsorship form.

Sponsorship forms for the group walkers will be available in the Church prior to September 14th

Sponsorship forms, for the more adventurous who wish to make their own walking arrangements, or would like to cycle, or even go by horse, thereby visiting more churches in the area, are available from me or Yvonne on 810341.

Refreshments, tea/coffee/squash/biscuits will be available free to all participants at All Hallows' during the day. Volunteers to man the refreshments for short periods throughout the day would be greatly appreciated.

Even if you are not able to join a walk or ride on the day you will be most welcome to come to All Hallows' for refreshment between 11.00am and 6.00pm on Saturday 14th September.

More importantly though, the walks and rides are for participants enjoyment whilst at the same time raising funds for a very good cause.

We hope to see as many of you as possible on the 14th September.

August SOLUTION

In spite of other distractions, six of you spent long hours pouring over last month's puzzle. There is no such thing as an original idea but once I photographed a field gate for a Treasure Hunt and asked how many triangles could be seen. I arrived at the correct figure eventually but for a while, the more I counted the more seemed to appear. So it must have been with this teaser.

One or two of you perhaps recognised a formula to do with vertical x horizontal line which does produce the answer. The rest of you counted each triangle and for that I wish I could give bonus points. If you know the formula where is the skill?

The answer is 56 triangles. Champion Matchman and The Opals submitted correct answers. New Dawn was agonisingly close with 55 and Real Sleuth and The Beginners were close enough - two points to all three. Gemini will admit that their answer was not very close and so they deserve only 'un point'.

Let us try a Cryptogram, not for the first time but we have not had one for a while. I have not checked so please don't write in if I am wrong!

It is a straight substitution. If it is successful I will try to provide a stiffer test at a later date.

The essence of the sentence is unarguable.

Don't let this happen to you!

Let's try again! Last month's fiasco was the Editor's responsibility but not his fault! The best comment came from The Opals who are regular Enigma entrants. They saw a similar picture in a well-known gallery entitled 'Printing Error' but there the similarity ended - it was priced at £50,000!!

The picture on the left has been altered. Please don't imagine that the map or anything related to it has been changed, it is apparent from the picture. Find the difference and you could win a prize

2002 - TOWN QUIZ - 2002

After the surprise success of last year's quiz, which raised funds for the Newsletter, the whole of the staff, from the chief pencil sharpener down to the editor, has combined to produce a frustrating, mind-bending, exasperating reprise - at least, we hope so! As before, answers are a mixture of phonetics, humour, puns, a little sauciness, lateral thinking and a heavy groan factor. Where else can you get all that for the price? It is good fun and at the same time, it will raise funds for the RINGMORE PARISH NEWSLETTER.

A prize of £10 will be awarded to the person whose answer sheet has the most correct answers and £5 will go to the runner-up, provided that £15 is equal to 25% or less of the funds raised. If it is less, then 25% will be awarded pro rata, to the 1st and 2nd. In the event of a tie, the prize will be divided equally between the winners. Return your answer sheet to: The Editor, Ringmore Parish Newsletter, Ringmore Vean, Ringmore, Devon TQ7 4HL.
